CHIMES 69

YEARBOOK OF BEREA COLLEGE

BEREA, KENTUCKY

LARRY BREEDING, EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
SHARON SNIDER, MANAGING EDITOR

We, the members of the yearbook staff, dedicate this 1969 Chimes to DR. CHARLES E. PAUCK, who has been a living part of the reality of life at Berea College. In the dormitory, classroom, snack bar, gym, and campus walkways, he has been a constant source of information, advice, and dry humor—things that make the years here more meaningful.

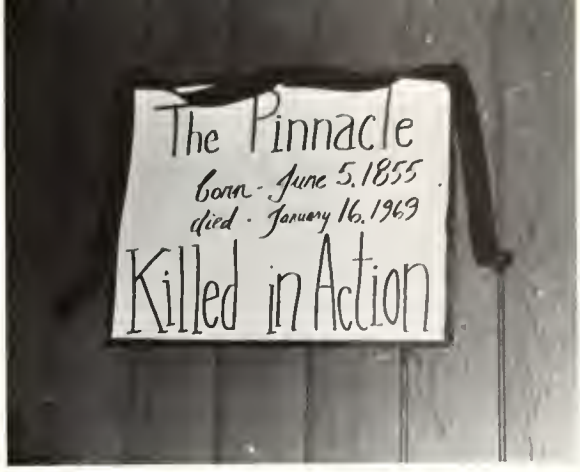
GENUINE



The Pinnacle
born - June 5. 1855
died - January 16. 1969
Killed in Action

what is it that makes a community hold together work laugh pray weep despair what is it that makes a community?

differences in people
the manifold human shapes colors
sizes
feelings
ideas

three boys arguing as they clatter down steep stairs

arguing politics

arguing sports

arguing classwork

pitched battles in the mind skirmishes of personalities words shaped as missiles not to wound the heart
but to penetrate the mind

a boy and a girl
agreeing to disagree
going separate ways after a moment of communion too deep to describe or understand

BLACK IS BEAUTIFUL

all the issues that burn in the inner eye fire the heart and blood despite the snow that lies along the sill

"how can white america understand the black man?"

"what is the answer to: overpopulation pollution the urban crisis the hundred years' ills of appalachia the dilemma of mass education?"

"oh i need to talk to someone who understands who really understands"

argument and meditation:
thinking
reading
writing
analyzing speaking hesitantly then more clearly in your own voice: i know i understand i see now it is mine: i have made it my own

the "moral equivalent of war":
games people play
sports
cards
the twists of conversation words become counters ideas are boundaries and rules or the muscles of the body are stretched in fine coordination of hand, foot, eye, mind working together: tension and relaxation moments of dispute tempered by days of harmony hours at the desk in the world of self lost in a book

pursuing an idea down a corridor of the brain then a few minutes to burst outside the self:
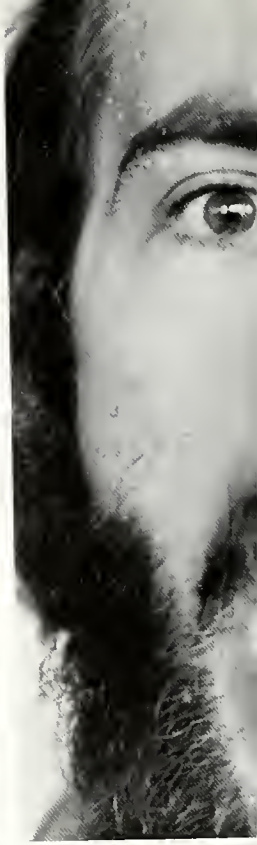
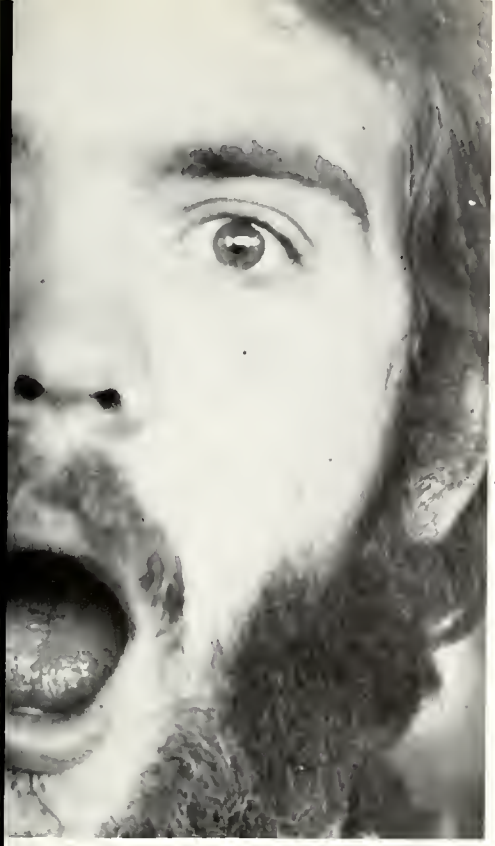
a dance
a run across the campus
ping-pong grudgematches





oh how can i ever get through this quiz? two days behind on my labor already look, i can't get anything out of this course:
    i've tried
no mail for the umpteenth day no mail why doesn't he/she write my roommate gets on my nerves all the time; i'm worried about my draft status, see?

i've been here for four years and now i don't want to leave

love/hate: attraction/repulsion like a law of physics it works: the campus is alternatively a prison and a palace home-away-from-home, my foot: I had more freedom with my parents women's hours illegal cars runs to richmond vietnam nixon vs humphrey overcentralization of government issues of all magnitudes all shapes colors sizes inflate the imagination: ills of every pain inflate the heart september to june—a short year a brief season

quarrels and bitterness and joys and despair
wrapped in a cloak of fall winter spring

the seasons revolving past the dormitory window like a clock's hands
turning inside you

An Equal Opportunity Employer

4-Square secret of success

When Wm. H. Danforth founded the Ralston Purina Company before the turn of the century, these eight words were already a part of his personal philosophy. It was only natural, therefore, that they become "his way of doing business." Today, these same words, framed by a now famous trademark, comprise the "Four-Square" business philosophy of the leader in the feed industry—The Ralston Purina Company.

Our philosophy today and for the future is the same as that of Mr. Danforth on the day he sold his first bag of feed. That's why we can look you squarely in the eye and offer you a four-square deal . . . honest products for an honest price.

We think you will like our way of doing business.
